Sen. McManus encouraged by governor's commitment to GOP vision of job creation and economic growth

Lansing – Sen. Michelle McManus (R-Lake Leelanau) said she was encouraged to hear Gov. Jennifer Granholm's commitment to work with Republicans on creating jobs and spurring Michigan's economy during her State of the State Address Tuesday night.

"I appreciate the governor's willingness to put partisanship aside and work for the good of the state," McManus said. "Her emphasis on manufacturing was particularly heartening as my district has been hit hard with lost manufacturing jobs in Osceola and Wexford counties."

Senate Republicans renewed their pledge to fight for every Michigan job and said they stand ready to work with the governor to accomplish what is right for the people of Michigan.

While the nation's economic recovery is well underway, families in Michigan are still too often facing the prospect of an unemployment check instead of a regular paycheck. In 2003, Michigan's jobless rate hit a 10-year high.

The GOP vision for Michigan includes providing a job opportunity for anyone who wants to work and support their family. It includes a great education for every student, affordable health care for families and senior citizens, and an opportunity for every Michigan resident to choose their own path.

"We must create Michigan's future, not just plan for it," said Senate Majority Leader Ken Sikkema. "It's time to create jobs, it's time to help our economy grow – it's time to take action."

Sen. McManus agreed, citing the example from this past fall when the Republican-led Legislature took action on its JOBS package – Job Opportunities for Business Success. Each point of the JOBS package complements the others to jumpstart Michigan's weak job market and get Michigan's residents back to work.

The Senate has sent seven of nine initiatives from the JOBS package on their way to the governor. Work is already underway on the remaining initiatives as well as JOBS: Phase II.

Sen. McManus said some of the governor's proposals outlined in her speech have merit, but she needs to see the details instead of just a general idea.

"I look forward to learning more about the new programs the governor proposed, and I am pleased to hear her pledge not to spend general fund money on those programs," McManus said.
